Background	The Derevo Family are one of the three great Founding Families of Tehmor, who family legend says first settled in the area in the Year 100. They are now one of the wealthiest and most powerful families in Tehmor, with many commercial interests, especially the City Brewery. The Derevos were originally Coyote Cultists from the Grasslands and as the City grew they domesticated smaller wild dogs, interbred them with Coyotes and used them to guard properties and hunt down thieves. Their City Brewery produces a range of dog-themed beers: Red Dog is the standard bitter ale enjoyed all across the City, Golden Dog a lighter, golden ale popular on the West Side, Salty Dog a long-lasting pale ale brewed for export and for the crews of ships which is popular in

	Docksides taverns, and Black Dog a strong, dark stout popular on the East Side and in The Maze. They also distil Devil Dog, a strong whiskey often ordered as "Hell Hound" (as in "I'll have a Black Dog and a Hell Hound as chaser, barman!") and Blink Dog, a strong tequila for the Desert Nomads (which it is said will cause you to wake up somewhere else if you drink too much of it). The Derevos have a longstanding feud with the Karana Family, the origins of which are now largely forgotten but which has been fuelled by the Derevos being a largely Evil, East Side family of Dog Cultists and the Karanas being a largely Good, West Side family of Cat Cultists.
